
Graduate Teaching Assistantships

There are a limited number of graduate teaching assistantships offered each year for qualified, full-time students. Applicants and currently-enrolled students who would like to be considered for one of these assistantships should contact the Director of Graduate Studies by Feb 15, the deadline for Fall semester applications. Interview of candidates will be conducted in March or April and selections usually made by early May. The deadline for Spring semester applications is September 15. Interview of candidates will be conducted in October and selections usually made in November. Assistantships provide a tuition waiver as well as a stipend. For more information please contact the Graduate Director.

Teaching Practicum

This course is required of all graduate assistants, but does not count toward the 30-hour thesis or 36-hour non-thesis required hours needed for completion of the M.A.

This course (HIS 5944) is designed to help graduate teaching assistants develop their skills as discussion leaders in introductory courses in which a faculty member has the responsibility for course organization and lectures.
