Re: Change to MBA Specialization/Concentration in Hospitality & Tourism Mgmt.

Our MBA specialization has been in existence now for a few years. With feedback from industry and students, we have decided to change our specialization/concentration at the graduate level.

In its current iteration it consists of four courses from an HMG list (see page titled Hospitality and Tourism Management Graduate-Level Specialization/Concentration).

We would like it to remain at four courses, but to ADD in any 6000-level MAR (marketing) course outside the core for marketing students.

The courses that will be used going forward will be...

Choose any four (4) of the following courses

HMG 6299	Hospitality Operations: A Case Approach
HMG 6506	Contemporary Issues in Hospitality Marketing
HMG 6546	Strategies for Excellence in Guest Service Management
HMG 6756	Meetings & Events Management
HMG 6901	Directed Independent Study*
MAR 6	Any 6000-level graduate marketing course beyond the core

The fourth course we will use will be flexible and will simultaneously assist our marketing department overall with rotation of its MBA-level courses. Students pursuing the graduate concentration in Hospitality and Tourism Management will now choose any graduate course with an MAR prefix for their fourth course option.

To summarize, the next pages show our current and proposed MBA concentration/specialization in hospitality and tourism management.

Thank you for your consideration. Please let me know if you have any questions by contacting me at peter.ricci@fau.edu OR 561-297-3666.

CURRENT

HOSPITALITY AND TOURISM MANAGEMENT GRADUATE-LEVEL CONCENTRATION

The graduate-level concentration in Hospitality and Tourism Management permits graduate students to combine interests in the hospitality and tourism industry in a complementary manner to the core courses of the MBA. The concentration permits students to gain an understanding of the core areas within hospitality and tourism management, including, but not limited to guest service, operations, and marketing/revenue management.

Students electing the Hospitality and Tourism Management Concentration will take the basic MBA core courses and four elective courses (12 total credit hours) from the following list. Students interested in the Directed Independent Study (DIS) course must receive permission from both the chair/director and the instructor of record prior to utilizing that course toward the 12-credit-hour concentration*.

Students must be in good standing at FAU, must meet all requirements of their respective graduate program, and may use hospitality management courses as electives if permitted by their particular graduate program. Students must maintain an overall grade of "B" (3.0 GPA) upon completion of all required courses in order to receive the hospitality and tourism management concentration.

If you have questions about the concentration or need advising of any type, please contact the hospitality and tourism program director, Dr. Peter Ricci, at peter.ricci@fau.edu

In summary:

We will be eliminating the course Strategic Finance in Hospitality Management and replacing it with any 6000-level marketing (MAR) course that is not part of the marketing core.

The number of overall courses remains the same at four (4) courses.

There is no need for any additional resources – personnel, funding, or otherwise.

This is a better outcome for our graduate students. It permits us to offer additional marketing (MAR) courses across multiple concentrations/specializations within the Flexible MBA program increasing synergy.

If you have any questions, please reach out to Dr. Peter Ricci, director of the hospitality and tourism management program, at either 561-297-3666 OR peter.ricci@fau.edu
