

ACADEMIC PROBATION

A “probation” status is assigned as a ~~warning notice for to~~ undergraduate students and indicates there is an opportunity to raise the grade point average. that academic improvement is needed. This status is noted on the FAU transcript. Students on “probation” or “continued probation” may continue to enroll in classes but are strongly encouraged to take advantage of university resources designed to improve academic success, such as meeting with an academic advisor, utilizing the Center for Teaching and Learning for tutoring, or visiting the ACCESS office for academic coaching. The full list of university resources is found on the Undergraduate Studies Academic Services webpage (<https://www.fau.edu/ugstudies/services/>). ~~expected to seek out resources to assist them in improving academically, such as meeting with their academic advisor or instructor and utilizing tutoring services.~~

Undergraduate students (both degree seeking and non-degree seeking) who are unable to maintain a fail to earn a satisfactory grade point average ~~{of 2.0 or higher}~~ on all coursework attempted in any ~~term~~ semester ~~are will~~ considered to be on academic probation. Students on academic probation who ~~fail are~~ unable to earn a 2.0 grade point average on all coursework attempted in any ~~term~~ semester but ~~have~~ maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher at FAU will be continued on academic probation.

Students on academic probation who earn a 2.0 grade point average or higher in the next ~~period~~ semester of enrollment but whose cumulative grade point average at FAU is lower than 2.0 will be continued on academic probation.

Undergraduate students are removed from academic probation when they earn at least a 2.0 grade point average in all coursework attempted during the next semester and have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher at Florida Atlantic University.

DEFERRED PROBATION, SUSPENSION AND DISMISSAL

If an undergraduate student (both degree seeking and non-degree seeking) takes a single course (or a single course and linked laboratory) in ~~the any~~ summer term, and is unable to maintain a term GPA of 2.0 or higher earns a semester GPA of less than a 2.0, and if this would result in the student being placed on probation, ~~suspension, or being suspended or dismissed or dismissal~~, the action will be deferred until the end of the next term in which the student is enrolled. At that time, any academic action will be based on the grades earned in the "next enrolled term" and/or the cumulative FAU GPA. In the event of deferred action, the student's academic status will remain the same as at the end of the term prior to summer semester preceding the summer term.
