Subject: Re: program changes from economics

Eric,

The way I read the change proposed by Economics is that ECO 3703, International Economics, is being added as an option, i.e., the options of students are being expanded rather than constricted.

If my understanding is correct, the School of Accounting has no objection to expanding the options of students by the addition of ECO 3703, International Economics.

Dear Eric:

As long as the new course is identical in counting as the other Economics classes ECO 4704, 4713, 3703 or ECS 3013

(and I see it is since it also counts as International perspective course), I do not object to the change:

Best Regards:

Tamara

Hi Eric,

I'm sorry. I did not know you needed my approval. I believe the management programs department's concerns have been met based on your discussions with IB professors and the conclusions stated in your email of 2/8/18.

If I need to sign something indicating approval, I would be happy to do so.

Sincerely,

Roland

Hi Eric –

The Department of Marketing supports your proposal.

Let me know if you need anything else from me. Again, my apologies for the delay in responding.

Sincerely,

Cheryl
