Hello Patty. We are extremely happy to have this history course added to our list of courses in the Center's Undergraduate Certificate Curriculum. It does not conflict with any course we currently offer. I am confident that Talitha's History of African American Women course will be well enrolled and quite popular in the undergraduate certificate program. Thanks again for the active participation of the History Dept. in the development of the Center's curriculum.

Sincerely,

Josephine

Hi Patty. I am in the process of filling out the paperwork to make my History of African-American Women class a permanent course. I spoke with Eric and he told me that part of this process would include getting an email or memo from Josephine in WGSS stating that she has no issues with me teaching the course and that the class will not conflict with their offerings. He indicated that proper protocol involves you emailing Josephine on this matter, then forwarding me her response which I will include with the course form. I've attached a copy of the course syllabus that you can forward to Josephine as well. Please let me know if you need any additional information. Thanks!
